MITCHELL ETESS

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

In his 11th year as CEO of the Connecticut Sun, Mitchell Grossinger Etesse oversees team operations on behalf of the Mohegan Tribe, representing the ownership in all matters pertaining to the day-to-day functioning of the franchise on both the administrative and basketball sides of the organization.

Born into a family of hoteliers, Etesse brings literally a lifetime of experience in the hospitality industry to his role as Chief Executive Officer of the Mohegan Tribal Gaming Authority (MTGA). Etesse joined Mohegan Sun as a member of the pre-opening team in 1996 as Senior Vice President of Marketing, and was responsible for marketing, food and beverage, sports and entertainment and hotel operations.

As Chief Executive Officer for the Mohegan Tribal Gaming Authority, Etesse is responsible for the overall management and operation of MTGA's two main properties, Mohegan Sun in Connecticut and Mohegan Sun at Pocono Downs in Plains Township, Pennsylvania. Additionally, he evaluates the short and long-term business planning and growth for Mohegan Tribal Gaming Authority and the Mohegan Tribe as well as business development efforts within the gaming and hospitality industries.

In 2004, Etesse was promoted to President and CEO of Mohegan Sun, overseeing the overall management and operation of the Northeast's premier entertainment destination. In 2006, Etesse was appointed CEO of the MTGA, assuming responsibility of the overall management and operation of Mohegan Sun and its sister entities, including Mohegan Sun at Pocono Downs – Pennsylvania's first slots casino and harness race track in Wilkes-Barre – and four off-track wagering facilities in Pennsylvania. Etesse also is responsible for overseeing the Mohegan Gaming Advisors, the management arm of MTGA, which currently operates Resorts Casino Hotel in Atlantic City in which the MTGA is a partner.

Before 1985, Etesse worked in virtually every capacity at his family-owned Grossinger's Hotel in Grossinger, N.Y. It was here that Etesse, raised at the hotel, received his early training in the hospitality industry.

A graduate of Columbia University, Etesse resides in Lyme with his wife Karen. They have two daughters, Piper and Maxie.

RAYMOND PINEAULT

ALTERNATE GOVERNOR

In his fourth season as the Alternate Governor for the Connecticut Sun, Pineault is a Mohegan Tribal member who also serves as the Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer of Mohegan Sun, managing and overseeing all Mohegan Sun operating departments, including table games, slots, security and resort operations, among others.

Pineault has been with the Mohegan Tribe and Mohegan Sun since March 2001. Prior to his current position, Pineault served as Senior Vice President of Casino Operations, where he was responsible for managing and overseeing gaming and retail operations. Prior to that, Pineault served for two years as Senior Vice President of Administration, where his responsibilities included managing all human resources and legal functions of Mohegan Sun. While working for the Mohegan Tribe, Pineault was responsible for managing the legal issues associated with all commercial transactions of the Tribe, as well as negotiating and drafting agreements related to business opportunities and consulting with the Mohegan Tribal Gaming Authority (MTGA) on security issues, including financial reporting and debt financing.

In addition, Pineault has provided legal services to several of the Mohegan Tribe's departments and entities, including the housing authority, utility authority, planning, development, information systems and finance departments as well as Little People, LLC., and Crow Hill Properties. Pineault currently serves as a member of the Anthem Connecticut Advisory Board, Mitchell College Hospitality of Tourism Board and as an adjunct professor at Mitchell College, teaching a class on Business and Hospitality Law.

Pineault holds a Bachelor of Arts in psychology from the University of Connecticut as well as a law degree from Quinnipiac College School of Law. He resides in Glastonbury with his wife and three children.

CHRIS SIENKO

VICE PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER

Now in his 11th season with the Connecticut Sun, Chris Sienko is the Vice President and General Manager, directing the business and basketball operations for one of the most successful franchises in the WNBA. As part of his day-to-day responsibilities, Sienko also oversees Sponsorship and Regional Marketing on behalf of Mohegan Sun.

Throughout his tenure, Sienko has been extremely aggressive during each offseason, using trades and free agent signings to build a team that has been a perennial contender, qualifying for the playoffs in eight of its 10 seasons since relocating from Orlando.

Not one to shy away from a difficult decision, Sienko made another bold move following the 2012 campaign, choosing not to bring back longtime head coach Mike Thibault after the Sun fell short of a trip to the WNBA Finals following a 25-9 regular season. The search for Thibault's replacement ended when Sienko convinced Hall of Famer Anne Donovan to return to the WNBA, where she had enjoyed remarkable success highlighted by a championship with the Seattle Storm in 2004.

Donovan will inherit a youthful Connecticut Sun team that has won 46 games in the last two seasons. Those results are directly attributable to a rebuilding effort that began three years ago.

Following a subpar 2009 campaign, Sienko worked to re-tool the Sun roster, using a series of trades and signings to change the makeup of the team. The centerpiece of this reconstruction project was a blockbuster trade in January that brought Renee Montgomery and the No. 1 pick in the 2010 WNBA Draft to Connecticut in exchange for Lindsay Whalen and the No. 2 pick. The Sun used the No. 1 pick to select UConn star Tina Charles, who set new WNBA records for total rebounds and double-doubles on the way to Rookie of the Year honors. Unrestricted free agent Kara Lawson was also added during that off-season to help solidify the backcourt.

Thirteen of the 15 trades in franchise history have happened while Sienko has been the GM of the Sun. Previous trades have netted Margo Dydek, Asjha Jones and Whalen.

Sienko was charged with overseeing a hectic transition period that began when the Mohegan Tribe purchased the Orlando Miracle on Jan. 28, 2003. In the days between that announcement and the Sun's first preseason game against the New York Liberty, Sienko traded for Connecticut icon Rebecca Lobo, hired coach Mike Thibault and the rest of the Sun front office staff, helped negotiate the team's radio and television contracts and managed all of the other day-to-day business functions of the franchise, including player contracts and personnel moves for the team. In addition to his role as GM for the Sun at that time, Sienko was concurrently directing all sporting events for the property, including boxing, wrestling, college and professional basketball, bowling, billiards and more.

Sienko was the impetus behind the creation of the Connecticut Sun Foundation, a not-for-profit founded in 2007. The Foundation has awarded Bright Horizons Scholarships to deserving Connecticut high school seniors, and it helps high-risk individuals in our community. He has served on the board of the Foundation since its inception.

Sienko sits on several different committees for the WNBA including the Competition Committee, Rules and Regulations, Marketing, Advertising and Sponsorship committees. He is also on an advisory committee, made up of all the COO's in the league.

Sienko has been chosen to serve on the 2013-16 USA Basketball Women's National Team Player Selection Committee. Sienko will help pick the 2014 USA World Championship and 2016 U.S. Olympic teams during this four-year commitment. Other members of the committee include Women's National Team Director Carol Callan, San Antonio Silver Stars General Manager and Head Coach Dan Hughes, WNBA star and three-time Olympic gold medalist Katie Smith and Renee Brown, who is the WNBA Chief of Basketball Operations and Player Relations.

Prior to joining Mohegan Sun, Sienko was an integral part in the start up of another professional sports team, the ABL's New England Blizzard, where he served as vice president of marketing, then general manager. He also was president of the Arthur Robert Group, a small advertising agency in Connecticut for eight years, as well as vice president of marketing for thePit.com, which was successfully sold to Topps, Inc. in 2000.

Sienko is a graduate of the University of Connecticut.

ANNE DONOVAN

HEAD COACH

Olympic Gold Medalist and Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame member Anne Donovan was introduced as the second head coach in Connecticut Sun history on January 3, 2013.

Donovan joins the Sun after spending three seasons as the head women's basketball coach at Seton Hall University.

The first female coach to win a WNBA championship, Donovan is tied for fourth place on the list of all-time winners with former Los Angeles Sparks coach Michael Cooper. Both have 167 regular season victories. Donovan is also one of just three people who have coached at least 300 regular season WNBA games.

She began her WNBA coaching career as the interim head coach with the expansion Indiana Fever in 2000, then spent two seasons (2001 and 2002) with the Charlotte Sting. In Charlotte, Donovan compiled a 36-28 record while leading the Sting to consecutive playoff appearances. In 2001, the team began 1-10 before executing one of the great turnarounds in league history, a 17-4 run and a trip to the WNBA Finals.

In 2003, Donovan began her first of five seasons with the Seattle Storm. During her tenure in Seattle, the Storm became one of the most consistent winners in the league, racking up a 93-77 overall record four playoff appearances. In 2004, the Storm captured went all the way, defeating the Connecticut Sun 2-1 in the WNBA Finals as Donovan became the first female coach to win a league championship.

Donovan departed Seattle following the 2007 season but returned to the WNBA in 2009 as an assistant coach for the New York Liberty. Halfway through that season she became the interim head coach and spent the 2010 season on the sidelines as the head coach with the Liberty. Donovan wrapped up her tenure in New York with a record of 29-22 and a trip to the Eastern Conference Finals in 2010.

As a head coach, Donovan's teams have consistently out-paced the rest of the WNBA on the offensive end of the court. In 10 seasons, her teams have bested the league average in points per game seven times, including six consecutive seasons (2002-2007).

Just one of 10 athletes in USA Olympic history to be named to three or more U.S. Olympic Women's Basketball Teams (1980, 1984 and 1988), Donovan won two gold medals (1984 and 1988). As a member of the U.S. National Team, Donovan was 52-7 and won seven gold medals and two silver medals in international competitions.

On January 12, 2006, Donovan was named head coach of the USA Basketball Women's Senior National Team. During her time on the sidelines with USA Basketball as both a head coach and an assistant, she compiled a record of 132-10, including 57-6 at the helm from 2006-08. As a coach, Donovan accumulated five gold medals, including the 2008 Olympics in Beijing, three silver medals, one bronze medal and two tournament titles with USA Basketball. Following the team's performance in Beijing, she was named the co-recipient, along with Mike Krzyzewski, of the 2008 USA Basketball National Coach of the Year award. Donovan is just the second woman to both coach and compete in an Olympic Games, joining Pat Summitt in that category.

Donovan's coaching career began in the collegiate ranks, where she spent six seasons (1989-1995) as an assistant at Old Dominion University, her alma mater, before taking the head coaching position at East Carolina University in 1995. After the 1997-98 season, she departed East Carolina to guide the Philadelphia Rage of the American Basketball League.

As a student-athlete at Old Dominion, Donovan enjoyed a remarkable career. A three-time Kodak All-American (1981, 1982 and 1983) and two-time Academic All-American (1982 and 1983), she was the recipient of the Naismith Trophy as the national Player of the Year in 1983 and received a NCAA post-graduate scholarship that same year for her academic achievements. After helping the Monarchs win the 1980 AIAW National Championship, Donovan departed the Monarchs as the all-time leader in points (2,710) and rebounds (1,976) as well as blocks (801). Her blocks total stands as the most in a career in combined AIAW/NCAA history.

On May 15, 1995, Donovan was inducted into the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame and in 1999 was one of 26 members of the inaugural class of inductees to the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame. In addition to those honors, she is a member of the Virginia Sports Hall of Fame, the New Jersey Sports Hall of Fame, the CoSIDA Academic All-American Hall of Fame and the Hampton Roads Sports Hall of Fame. In 2004, Donovan was named the Sun Belt Conference's All-Time Women's Basketball Player and in 2008 she received both the NCAA 25-year Award and an honorary Doctorate from Old Dominion.

A native of Ridgewood, N.J., Donovan graduated from Paramus Catholic High School.

JENNIFER GILLOM

ASSISTANT COACH

Beginning her first season as an assistant coach with the Connecticut Sun, Jennifer Gillom brings extensive WNBA experience, both as a player and a coach, to the position. Hired on February 4th, Gillom joins the Sun after spending the 2012 season as an assistant coach with the Washington Mystics.

A 2009 inductee into the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame, Gillom began her coaching career in 2004 at Xavier College Preparatory in Phoenix, leading the girls' basketball team at the private high school to a 130-25 record in six seasons. A four-time regional coach of the year, Gillom led the Gators to the state tournament every year and earned one regional title.

Gillom began her WNBA coaching career in 2008 as an assistant coach with the Minnesota Lynx before being elevated to interim head coach with the Lynx three days before the start of the 2009 season. In Minnesota, she compiled a record of 14-20 while coaching All-Rookie Team member Renee Montgomery and All-Defensive Team member Nicky Anosike. She spent the 2010 and 2011 seasons as the head coach of the Los Angeles Sparks, finishing her tenure with a mark of 28-40. One of the first players signed by the WNBA, Gillom played seven seasons in the league from 1997 to 2003. She spent six seasons with the Phoenix Mercury before completing her career with the Los Angeles Sparks in 2003. She led the Mercury to the playoffs three times, including a trip to the WNBA Finals in 1998, and averaged career-highs of 20.8 points and 7.3 rebounds per game during that season. Last May 23rd, Connecticut Sun players, coaches and front office staff served a full meal to visitors at the New London Community Meal Center. The team also delivered canned goods collected during a Food Drive conducted prior to a preseason game earlier in May. Two years ago, the entire Sun roster and coaching staff spent part of a day with Habitat for Humanity of Southeastern Connecticut working on a house in New London, Conn. The players painted, removed siding, moved bricks and prepared the house for further work.

WNBA FIT

The WNBA embraces its responsibility as the preeminent women's professional sports league with powerful role models to continue to deliver important messages and programming related to the areas of health, fitness, nutrition and self-esteem. WNBA Fit will encourage teens and women of all ages to learn more about their bodies and the importance of physical fitness. Programming has been developed to encourage teens and women to get started on "being fit" through small changes in their daily regimen. Connecticut Sun players will be out in the community this summer conducting clinics that will encourage healthy living.

READ TO ACHIEVE

Read to Achieve is a year-round, league-wide initiative supported by all 30 NBA teams, 12 WNBA teams, and NBADL teams that promotes the value of reading and on-line literacy and encourages families and adults to read regularly with young children. It is the most extensive educational outreach initiative in the history of professional sports. The program includes the annual donation of more than 200,000 books through a variety of reading events and book fairs, as well as the development of essay contests and on-line programs and the creation of Reading and Learning centers throughout North America. Connecticut Sun players will visit locations around the state this summer, reading and speaking to children about the importance of literacy.

PACK THE PLACE PINK

The Connecticut Sun supports the WNBA's Breast Health Awareness initiative, and will host "Pack The Place Pink" night again this season. Sun players will wear special pink uniforms that will be auctioned after the game, and the team will once-again conduct a silent auction on the concourse to raise money in the fight against breast cancer. A group of breast cancer survivors will be presented with pink and white basketballs. The WNBA will celebrate Breast Health Awareness during the week of August 18-24th. The Sun will host "Pack The Place Pink" on August 22nd during the game against the Minnesota Lynx.

CONNECTICUT SUN FOUNDATION

In 2007, the Connecticut Sun established the Connecticut Sun Foundation, a charitable organization dedicated to improving the lives of Connecticut's youth by supporting athletic and educational endeavors. Interests include providing educational scholarships to high school seniors, and grants for the refurbishment of basketball courts and equipment. The Sun takes pride in giving back to the community where our fans live, work and play. We are committed to using our resources to leave a lasting legacy in Connecticut, supporting fitness and education programs that will help to create the foundation for healthy and rewarding lives.

CSF SCHOLARSHIP

On April 26, 2012, the Connecticut Sun Foundation announced it would donate $20,000 over the next two years to Goodwin College, establishing a scholarship fund to support adult students returning to school to complete a degree. A total of eight adult students will receive awards of $2,500 each for the next two years. The median age for Goodwin College students is 28 years old. The college specializes in offering educational opportunities to non-traditional students with flexible programming that makes it convenient for working adults to attend classes.
